11. Simpozij mladih slavistov

»Dialog med središči in obrobji v slovanskih jezikih in literaturah«

Nova Gorica, 1. in 2. december 2023

Vabilo k prijavi prispevkov

Vabimo vas, da se udeležite 11. mednarodnega Simpozija mladih slavistov z naslovom Dialog med središči in obrobji v slovanskih jezikih in literaturah, ki bo potekal 1. in 2. decembra 2023 na Fakulteti za humanistiko Univerze v Novi Gorici (Vipavska 13, SI-5000 Nova Gorica). Simpozij organizirajo Študentska sekcija Zveze društev Slavistično društvo Slovenije in Fakulteta za humanistiko Univerze v Novi Gorici.

Mednarodno srečanje je namenjeno vsem mladim, ki v svojih znanstvenih raziskavah obravnavajo teme s področja slovanskih jezikov, literatur, didaktike in prevodoslovja. K oddaji in predstavitvi prispevkov vabimo študentke in študente ter mlade doktorice in doktorje znanosti na slovenskih in tujih univerzah oz. vse, ki so univerzitetni študij že zaključili in se z razpisanimi temami strokovno ali znanstveno ukvarjajo.

Uvod

Globalno gledano predstavljajo »središča« akumulacijo finančnega in kulturnega kapitala. V njegovem razmerju do periferij (in polperiferij) vlada nesimetričnost moči; finančne, politične, kulturne. Teorija svetovnih kapitalskih središč in obrobij se odraža tudi na področjih, ki nas zanimajo na našem simpoziju; jezikih, literaturi in didaktiki. Neenakost, ki omogoča dinamiko središč in obrobij se tako izraža na oblikovanju literarnega kanona, prevladi svetovnih jezikov in navsezadnje na prednosti obojega v šolskih kurikulih.

Slovanske jezike in literature, ki so ne glede na perspektivo enako kot drugi jeziki in literature v evropskem prostoru ujeti v dinamiko prehajanja med središčnim in obrobnim, ta položaj pomembno določa; ne samo v odnosu do globalnega Zahoda in neslovanskih (anglofonih, frankofonih idr.) kultur, temveč tudi v odnosu do drugih slovanskih držav. Zanimalo nas bo tudi, kako deluje dinamika med centrom in periferijo znotraj okvirov posameznih jezikovnih in etničnih meja; kako je delovala centralizacija, kakšno mesto so imeli v oblikovanju nacionalnih držav dialekti in kakšno je stanje v 21. stoletju.

S tem v mislih bomo prvi dan simpozija namenili temam, v katerih se dialoško odslikujejo razmerja med središčnimi in obrobnimi prostori v slovanskih jezikih in literaturah. Drugi dan bo posvečen korespondenci kot obliki sporazumevanja na daljavo, v kateri se pomembno odražajo tudi razmerja zgornje dihotomije. Pisemske mreže so bile tekom zgodovine ključne za pretok informacij in idej ter širjenje nazorov. Hkrati nam pri raziskovanju korespondenc, od starejših rokopisnih do sodobnih elektronskih, služijo kot svojevrsten dokument časa in razmer, v katerih so nastale.

11th Symposium of Young Slavists

"The Dialogue between Centres and Peripheries in Slavic Languages and Literatures"
Nova Gorica, 1 and 2 December 2023

Call for Papers

Introduction

We are delighted to invite you to the 11th International Symposium of Young Slavists "The Dialogue between Centres and Peripheries in Slavic Languages and Literatures", which will take place on 1 and 2 December 2023 at the Faculty of Humanities, University of Nova Gorica (Vipavska 13, SI-5000 Nova Gorica). The symposium is organised by the Student Section of the Slovenian Slavic Association and the Faculty of Humanities of the University of Nova Gorica.

The international meeting is addressed to all young people whose scientific research deals with topics in the field of Slavic languages, literatures, didactics and translation studies. We invite students and young doctoral candidates at Slovenian and foreign universities, or all those who have already completed their studies and are dealing with the topics mentioned in the Call for Papers, to submit and present their papers.

Introduction

Globally, "centres" represent an accumulation of financial and cultural capital. In their relation to the peripheries (and semi-peripheries) exists an asymmetry of power; financial, political, cultural. The theory of global capital centres and peripheries is also reflected in the symposium's fields of interest: languages, literature and didactics. The inequality enabled by the dynamics of centres and peripheries is thus reflected in the formation of the literary canon, the dominance of world languages and, ultimately, the primacy of both in school curricula.

Slavic languages and literatures, which, regardless of the perspective, are just like other languages and literatures in the European area caught in the dynamics of transition between central and peripheral, this position significantly determines; not only in relation to the global West and non-Slavic (Anglophone, Francophone, etc.) cultures, but also in relation to other Slavic countries. We will also be interested in the dynamics between the center and the periphery within the framework of individual linguistic and ethnic borders; what were the outcomes of centralization, what role dialects played in the formation of national states and what the situation looks like in the 21st century.

With this in mind, we will dedicate the first day of the symposium to topics in which the relations between central and peripheral spaces in Slavic languages and literatures are reflected in a dialogical manner. The second day will be devoted to correspondence as a form of long-distance communication, in which the relations of the above-mentioned dichotomy are also clearly reflected. Throughout history, letter networks have been crucial for the exchange of information and the dissemination of ideas. At the same time, correspondences, from the older manuscript to the modern electronic one, serve as a unique document of the time and the conditions under which they were created.

Thematic strands
